The Noble Definition: Impressive! Of High Birth or Social Status. Lover of the Arts and history.

New to Revel Grove? Visiting for 5 hours or less? Feeling overwhelmed by choice? Here are suggestions of shows that a noble may enjoy.

September 5th, 6th, 7th:

SHOWS: Check the program schedule for exact times and locations.

*Special Guests this weekend: The Ballet Theatre of Maryland presents Macbeth at 10:30am at the Globe.

*A-Per-Se: 11am at the Globe: Revel Grove Madrigals & Dancers.

*Follow the King and Queen! See The Royal Welcome at 1pm, and for juicy court gossip, don't miss Recollections May Vary at 4:30pm. Both shows at the Globe.

*Nobles love their birds of prey! Visit the birds at the mews near Dragon's Liar, and see a Knightwings Birds of Prey show at Blackfriars or the Joust Arena.

*Stop by Reveler's Bower and visit with our living history performers who will be demonstrating spinning, needlework, and leatherworking.

*Music at the Cottage Stage: Intimate performances featuring folk, Celtic and Renaissance.

*Is the play your thing? Check out one of these One-Act plays at the Globe: 12pm: The Seduced Countess by Moliere; 12:30pm: The Three Musketeers 2:30pm: Shakespeare's Pyramus & Thisbe (from A Midsummer Night's Dream)

*Or, if limited on time, check out a scene or two of our STREETspeare program. complete list of scene times and locations available at Guest Services.

*Like the Bard of Avon? Not sure, but like comedy? Try Shakespeare's Skum two shows daily at the Globe. 1:30pm: Antony & Cleopatra; 3pm: Hamlet.

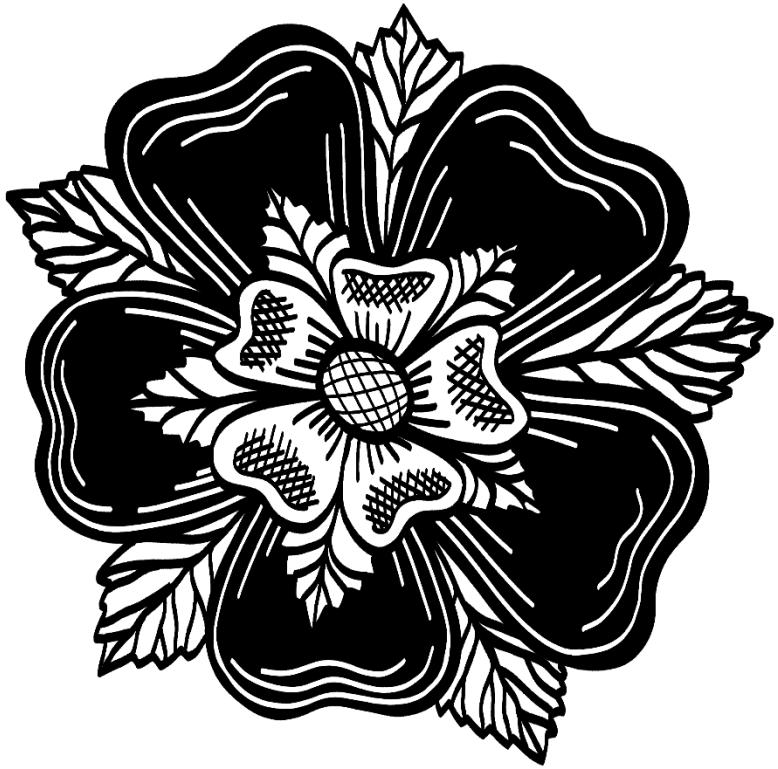
*Enjoy the jester-like comedy of those most excellent silent (and not so silent) fools, O and LaLa! at the Lyric Stage.

*See your fellow noble: Queen of Hoops at the Globe!

*Stop by the Chapel and see a display of the Crown Jewels!

*Nobles, see Les S, Moore Will Steal Your Stuff at the Fortune Stage for a primer on how to make sure a pickpocket does not take your pouch filled with gold!

*Here late? Finish your day at Pub Sing at the White Hart Tavern at 5:45pm or perhaps you'd like to dance with Piper Jones at Boars Head at 6:15pm.



THE NOBLE'S PUB : Boar's Head Tavern.

At 11:30am all nobles are welcome to a short and informal meet and mingle with fellow nobles at the Boars Head Tavern. Festival Ambassadors Lady Rochford, the Duke of Norfolk, and Captain Jean will be on hand to say hello, take a picture, share suggestions on shows to see, and raise a glass to friendship! Meet just outside the Boar's Head, across from the bar area, not far from Sandwich Wraps food booth. (cancelled if it is raining)

GAMES : (additional cost) There are many games of skill and luck around the village. Nobles might enjoy: Archery near Dragon's Lair, and the Labyrnth near Boar's Head.

CRAFTS : Peruse the map in our festival program to discover a wide array of crafts including jewelry, pottery, clothing, and gifts fit for a Royal!
